Having graduated with a Bachelor of Science Degree in Economics (BSs Econ.) from the University of Latvia in 2004, Tim started his career in the logistics sector within Latvia's oil and gas sector. Three years down the line, Tim joined an international audit and consulting firm as their marketing and sales manager where he furthered his experience. Eventually his career took him to Cyprus, where for 6 years he occupied a managerial role with a top corporate advisory firm, gaining extensive practical experience as well as successfully obtaining a Master's Degree in Business Administration from CIM (Cyprus Institute of Marketing).

In 2014, Tim moved to Malta and took up the position of head of Russia, CIS and Baltics desk at Nexia BT within their Tax and International Client Services Department. As a proficient speaker of Latvian, English and Russian coupled with his experience, Tim is a regular speaker and delegate at international events, conferences and seminars on tax, immigration and wealth management. He has also penned a number of articles which have been featured in international magazines and publications related to his areas of expertise. In his position in relation to International Business, Tim provides international private clients with assistance and tailor-made solutions for their structures. His areas of specialisation are private tax planning, wealth structuring, as well as citizenship and residence planning.
